First trimester

SLE patients have a significantly higher Log_{10} concentration compared to controls, with a p-value of 0.028.

Third trimester

SLE patients have a significantly higher Log_{10} concentration compared to controls, with a p-value of 0.001.