The accuracy of the new method in hemorrhagic shock status. Bland and Altman graph comparing the difference between mixed venous oxygen saturation through left main bronchus (SpO\textsubscript{2\text{trachea}}) and oxygen saturation from pulmonary artery samples (SvO\textsubscript{2\text{blood}}) versus the mean oxygen saturation by the “gold standard” and new method in hemorrhagic shock status.