This 36-base repeat occurs once in the genome, but assembly shows ambiguous number of copies.

Ambiguity: one gray edge agrees with genome, other gray edge has four substitutions in 45 bases.

1.1 Mb perfect edge is over half of genome.

Complex of gray edges = unresolved 440-base repeat region.

Circular edge perfectly represents plasmid.