Figure S3. The regulatory constraint (RC) score is influenced by distance from the splice junction but not by exon length. Mean RC scores for hSNPs were plotted as a function of minimum distance from the splice junction (top) and exon length (bottom).