Figure A8. Minimal increase in median intergenic probe hybridization intensity is observed with number of G+C bases. Boxplots of intergenic probe hybridization intensities for each sample after quantile normalization. Probes are grouped according to the number of G+C bases in their sequence.