Supplementary Fig. S1. MCT-1 is a prognostic marker of human breast carcinoma. Using an analysis of the Kaplan–Meier plotter database, MCT-1 gene activation associated with OS (A) and RFS (B) were identified in different molecular types of breast cancer. A log rank test indicated the p-value.