Supplementary Figure 1. The yield of temperature gradient PCR with different single point mutation templates of NiCRTISO (synthesized) and different combination of primers was detected by agarose gel electrophoresis. Equal amount of each templates was added in each PCR system. The red asterisk indicates a lack of a base pair. At least three independent biological replications were amplified to each PCR.