Survey on experiences in the D-CPT trial

1. How did you become aware of the D-CPT trial? Please tick all applicable answers and add your answer below, if you can’t find it in the list. Several answers are possible.
- Recommendation by another participant
- Recommendation by a psychiatrist
- Recommendation by a general practitioner
- Recommendation by a pediatrician
- Recommendation by a gynecologist
- Recommendation by a school psychologist or school counselor
- Recommendation by a teacher
- Recommendation by a social worker
- Recommendation by the youth welfare office
- Recommendation by the local health office
- Recommendation by a police department
- Internet search (e.g., via Google)
- Website of the study
- Website of the study centre
- Facebook
- Other(s), namely:

___________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________

O Flyer
O Advertisement in a newspaper
O Article in a newspaper
O Poster
O Recommendation by psychotherapists
O Recommendation by staff of an outpatient clinic
O Recommendation by staff of a psychiatric clinic
O Recommendation by staff of a psychosomatic clinic
O Recommendation by staff of a general hospital
O Recommendation by a counseling center
O Receiving an e-mail via a students’ mailing list
O Recommendation by my parents/guardians
2. What were the problems for you to participate in the D-CPT trial? Please tick all applicable answers and add your answer below, if you can’t find it in the list. Several answers are possible.

- Duration of assessment appointments
- Distress caused by fearing the results of the diagnostics
- Distress caused by having to talk about painful topics
- Commuting time to the study site
- Video recordings
- Difficult reachability of study site
- Concerns about confidentiality
- Amount of questionnaires to be completed
- Alternating interviewers
- Consistent interviewer at most appointments
- Involvement of parents/caregivers
- Consistent contact person at the study site
- Support by friends and/or relatives
- Other(s), namely:

___________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________

3. What was helpful to participate in the D-CPT trial?

- Financial compensation for taking part in assessments
- Reimbursement of travel costs
- Thank you cards
- Certificate after successful completion of the therapy
- Flexible time scheduling
- Involvement of parents/caregivers
- Consistent interviewer at most appointments
- Support by friends and/or relatives
- Other(s), namely:

___________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________

Thank you very much for answering these questions, you’ve helped us a lot!