The graph shows the activity of Xylanase and Endoglucanase over time. The Xylanase activity is indicated by the blue line, while the Endoglucanase activity is shown in red. Both enzymes show an increase in activity over the first four days, reaching a peak before stabilizing. The x-axis represents time in days, while the y-axes represent enzyme activity in U/ml.