Figure S3 | Validation of the neoantigen-specific responses detected in the first screen. IFN-γ production of TIL and PBL from NIC3-7, NIC15 and NIC17 was measurement upon stimulation with mutant (black) and wild type (grey) HPLC peptides, and a DMSO control (dashed), at different peptide concentrations. The mean ± standard deviation of the biological duplicates in the same experiment are depicted.