Supplementary Figure 1. Feedback-induced change for individual subjects. Solid lines demarcate no change, and dotted lines represent the mean of all subjects. (A) Change in the mean number of items correct. (B) Percent change in the prevalence of good-performance trials relative to prevalence in the no-feedback condition. (C) Percent change in the prevalence of poor-performance trials relative to prevalence in the no-feedback condition.