

Reviewer's report

Title: Dermatology Life Quality Index (DLQI) Scores in Vitiligo: translation and validation study of the Persian version

Version: 1 Date: 16 June 2004

Reviewer: Davinder Parsad

Reviewer's report:

General

-----
Major Compulsory Revisions -----

Minor Essential Revisions In Background section, There should be introduction to DLQI in relation to dermatological diseases or vitiligo. Authors described in background only about DLQI performa which is a part of Patients and Methods section or it can be omitted.

In result section: The DA and PR scales, also had association with severity factor but they were....., please reframe this line

-----
Discretionary Revisions (which the author can choose to ignore)

What next?: Accept after minor essential revisions

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Needs some language corrections before being published

Statistical review: No

Declaration of competing interests:

None