Title: Warfarin-induced toxic epidermal necrolysis in combination therapy of Henoch-Schönlein purpura nephritis: A case report

Version: 0 Date: 29 Dec 2016

Reviewer: Andrea Angioi

Reviewer's report:

The authors proposed for publication a case report that describes a VKA related dermal toxicity associated with HSP. I believe that this case does not add much to what we already know about VKA side effects (dermal necrosis is a well known side effect of this class of drugs). Many papers described this association, although this side effect is fortunately not so frequent in our wards (PMID 1341581, PMID 7369776, PMID 10718793). Thus, I believe that, as it is, this paper cannot catch sufficiently the attention of the reader.
