Reviewer's report

Title: Demographic determinants and effect of pre-operative angiotensin converting enzyme inhibitors and angiotensin receptor blockers on the occurrence of atrial fibrillation after CABG surgery.

Version: 3 Date: 19 January 2010

Reviewer: Jeff Healey

Reviewer's report:

Issues that were previously raised have been addressed

Minor point
In abstract, the risk associated with HTN is given as an OR, while for age, the authors show the two means. For the sake of comparison, they would be better to show the OR per year of age, rather than the two means.

Level of interest: An article of importance in its field

Quality of written English: Acceptable

Statistical review: Yes, and I have assessed the statistics in my report.
