Reviewer's report

Title: Profile and predictor of health-related quality of life among hypertensive patients

Version: 3 Date: 19 May 2009

Reviewer: Christos Lionis

Reviewer's report:

The revised manuscript has been sufficiently improved and satisfied the majority of my concerns. Some methodological issues still remain and I am suggesting to the authors to report all the study’s limitations in the discussion section, including the use of a non validated instrument to measure quality of life. The final text needs also a thorough linguistic editing.

Level of interest: An article of importance in its field

Quality of written English: Needs some language corrections before being published

Statistical review: No, the manuscript does not need to be seen by a statistician.
