Reviewer's report:

Minor essential revisions:

As the use of the term "not rescuer" seems awkward, authors are advised to rephrase it as "exclusion criteria" instead of inclusion criteria, i.e. the one exclusion criterion used for the study was if a respondent was a rescuer. It would be helpful to be specific as to whether this means current employment or volunteering or it it means if the respondent was 'ever employed' as a 'rescuer'.

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Acceptable

Statistical review: Yes, and I have assessed the statistics in my report.
