Reviewer's report

Title: A multidisciplinary systematic literature review on frailty: Overview of the methodology used by the Canadian Initiative on Frailty and Aging

Version: 1 Date: 27 April 2009

Reviewer: Jan Reed

Reviewer's report:

The paper is good, and well-researched. My only query is that it focuses more on the methodology of literature reviews, and may not, therefore have clear relevance to clinical practice. It does raise some interesting debates about definitions of frailty, but clearer links with current and future practice could be made.