Title: Performance Feedback: An exploratory study to examine the acceptability and impact for interdisciplinary primary care teams

Version: 2 Date: 13 December 2010

Reviewer's report:

The authors adjusted the article in response to my previous comments in a way that seems to me satisfactory. The Major Revisions that I suggested in the Discussion and the Conclusions aimed at referring to relevant literature to provide a better theoretical framework for the study and at restricting inferences to avoid going beyond the findings. I think both aspects were covered. The information added to the Methods and Results section also helps the reader to understand and evaluate the study.
