Reviewer's report

Title: Effect of lifestyle intervention for diabetics and prediabetics in real-world primary care: propensity score analysis.

Version: 3 Date: 7 August 2011

Reviewer: Magnolia Cardona-Morrell

Reviewer's report:

The authors have made good efforts to address all queries posed and taken up suggestions made by me and the other two reviewers. Their arguments and justifications are sound.

I’m satisfied that the changes have enhanced the new version of the manuscript and this paper will contribute to the body of evidence for effectiveness in the real world.

Level of interest: An article of importance in its field

Quality of written English: Acceptable

Statistical review: Yes, and I have assessed the statistics in my report.
