Version: 1 Date: 7 November 2012

Reviewer's report:

In this paper the authors describe the prevalence of chronic co-morbidities associated to COPD in a setting of general practitioner (GP) in Spain. The complexity of these patients pose clinical and organisational challenge to GPs. This interesting study, realized in a GP setting, is well designed, conducted and written. I no have major comments, but only minor comments on Table 1 (please add unit measure).
