Title: Cronkhite-Canada syndrome associated with rib fracture: a case report.

Version: 1 Date: 12 June 2010

Reviewer: Klaus Mönkemüller

Reviewer’s report:

Major revisions:
Please check on English grammar and spelling, e.g. "This patient complicated by rib fracture": this sentence needs rewriting.

Did the patient have any history of trauma, persistent cough or chest pain? Why did you perform the whole body bone scan? (this is mentioned in the discussion but should be mentioned in the case report).

Please describe the rib fracture more thoroughly. It is unusual for a rib fracture to persist after three months. Why do you think the fractures still persisted?

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Needs some language corrections before being published

Statistical review: No, the manuscript does not need to be seen by a statistician.
