Reviewer's report

Title: Angiotensin II receptor expression and relation to Helicobacter pylori-infection in stomach of the Mongolian gerbil

Version: 2 Date: 11 August 2009

Reviewer: Andre Bleich

Reviewer's report:

The manuscript has improved considerably, especially as specificity of the antibodies was proven and double staining was performed, although some aspects mentioned previously by the reviewers were not taken into account.

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Needs some language corrections before being published

Statistical review: No, the manuscript does not need to be seen by a statistician.
