Title: How much do elders with chronic conditions know about their medications?

Version: 4 Date: 12 March 2013

Reviewer: Jan Schuling

Reviewer’s report:

I thank the authors for having addressed my remarks.

Minor essential revisions: the authors have addressed my question about the limitations of the study adequately in their response, but have forgotten to add this passage to the section Limitations. Please add that as a result of selection bias the knowledge score in this population may be higher than in an average population.

In the attachment I made some comments on language.

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Needs some language corrections before being published

Statistical review: No, the manuscript does not need to be seen by a statistician.
