Reviewer's report

Title: A study of the occurrence of AH1N1 viral infection and the clinical features of symptomatic patients who received medical care during the 2009 influenza pandemic in central Mexico

Version: 2 Date: 13 October 2012

Reviewer: hongzhou lu

Reviewer's report:

1. The objective of the study is clearly stated and accomplished, but the occurrence of AH1N1 viral infection and the clinical features of symptomatic patients is already known in many countries, including Mexico. Hence the conclusion of this manuscript is not a new finding.
