Title: Prevalence and Predictors of Cervicitis in Female Sex Workers in Peru: an Observational Study

Version: 1 Date: 18 December 2012

Reviewer: melanie bissessor

Reviewer's report:

No revisions are necessary
The article is well written and relevant to the region described.
It would encourage other centres to differentiate between BV and cervicitis

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Acceptable

Statistical review: Yes, and I have assessed the statistics in my report.
