Reviewer's report:

General
Most of the concerns identified in the earlier review have been satisfactorily addressed in the revised manuscript. In particular, the title now better reflects the contents of the paper. A few minor, but essential revisions are detailed below.

-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Major Compulsory Revisions (that the author must respond to before a decision on publication can be reached)

-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Minor Essential Revisions (such as missing labels on figures, or the wrong use of a term, which the author can be trusted to correct)

There is still confusion regarding the use of the terms 'infection' and 'colonisation'. I strongly suggest the authors eliminate colonisation and use infection throughout the manuscript.

A few awkward English constructs remain in the manuscript.

Discretionary Revisions (which the author can choose to ignore)

-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

What next?: Accept after minor essential revisions

Level of interest: An article of limited interest

Quality of written English: Needs some language corrections before being published

Statistical review: No, the manuscript does not need to be seen by a statistician.
