Title: HIV Testing and Care in Canadian Aboriginal Youth: A community based mixed methods study.

Version: 1 Date: 31 July 2008

Reviewer's report:

Dr Mill and Colleagues have conducted a mixed quantitative and qualitative study to evaluate patterns of HIV testing among Aboriginal youth. Overall the study is clearly written and addresses an important topic. The limitations are well described and the findings clearly presented. I have only minor suggestions for how the manuscript could be improved which mostly relate to the Abstract:

1. Refer to "qualitative interviews" rather than "interviews in the methods section of the abstract.
2. Provide the eligible age in the methods and median age of respondents in the results of the abstract.
