Reviewer's report

Title: Heritability and genome-wide association analysis of renal sinus fat accumulation in the Framingham Heart Study

Version: 2  Date: 4 August 2011

Reviewer: Cecile Lecoeure

Reviewer's report:

For the revision of the paper "Heritability and genome-wide association analysis of renal sinus fat accumulation in the Framingham heart Study", the authors gave satisfactory answers to the points raised. And the paper was completed in consequence.

The methods are described more precisely and the additional information give an estimate of the study power.

I also thank the authors for answering to the discretionary revision.

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Acceptable

Statistical review: Yes, and I have assessed the statistics in my report.
