Title: Impact of HFE genetic testing on clinical presentation of hereditary hemochromatosis: new epidemiological data

Version: 2 Date: 7 April 2005

Reviewer's report:

General
Unfortunately, the authors did not really answer all questions completely. Therefore, some of my general concerns remain, e.g. the question of adequate consideration of alcohol consumption.

Overall it is difficult to follow up with the changes made since they are not marked in the revised text of the manuscript.

However, in general the MS may be suitable for publication now in its revised form.
