Reviewer’s report

Title: The relationship between obesity and Diabetic nephropathy in China

Version: 3 Date: 12 December 2012

Reviewer: Indranil Dasgupta

Reviewer’s report:

The authors have taken into account most of my comments and as a consequence the manuscript reads better. However, the authors should include a table comparing demography of excluded and included patients to show that the sample was representative. There are still numerous grammatical and typographical mistakes that need to be corrected. The introduction needs to be more focused.

Level of interest: An article of importance in its field

Quality of written English: Not suitable for publication unless extensively edited

Statistical review: No, the manuscript does not need to be seen by a statistician.
