Reviewer's report

Title: Perceived needs and satisfaction with care in people with multiple sclerosis: a two-year prospective study

Version: 3 Date: 25 July 2008

Reviewer: Angus Forbes

Reviewer's report:

The authors have made a robust defence of the problems inherent to this study. These weaknesses are now expressed in the paper. So I would support publication.

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Needs some language corrections before being published

Statistical review: No, the manuscript does not need to be seen by a statistician.
