Title: Preeclampsia and long-term risk of cardiovascular disease: what do obstetrician-gynecologists know?

Version: 1 Date: 30 January 2013

Reviewer: Tanja Groten

Reviewer's report:

In their manuscript the authors state the well defined question about the knowledge of obstetrician-gynecologists knowledge about their task to council patients who suffered preeclampsia about their lifelong health risks. The methods they used to evaluate the obstetricians knowledge is appropriate and well described. The data description and analysis is straight forward and clear, limitations are discussed and the conclusions are conclusive from the results. It might have been worse while to add some discussion on the question, how to improve the knowledge about the lifelong risks of these patients, not only regarding CVD but also diabetes and kidney disease.
