Reviewer’s report

Title: Infertility and Childlessness: A qualitative study of the experiences of infertile couples in Northern Ghana

Version: 2  Date: 27 December 2012

Reviewer: Tewes Wischmann

Reviewer’s report:

The paper has improved much in the revision process and all the major concerns have been addressed adequately. I still think that the authors go very much into detail but this is only a minor point of critique.

Though I am not a native English speaker, some wordings still seem to be odd, e.g. in the second paragraph on page 2: "In Cameroon, infertility is a ground for divorce ...", it should be "... is a reason for divorce ..." in my opinion.

Level of interest: An article of importance in its field

Quality of written English: Needs some language corrections before being published

Statistical review: No, the manuscript does not need to be seen by a statistician.
