Title: A comparison of maternal and neonatal outcomes between water immersion during labor and conventional labor and delivery

Version: 2 Date: 7 February 2014

Reviewer: Bolajoko O. Olusanya

Reviewer's report:

Outstanding Minor Essential Revision

The authors mentioned that they were not aware of the commonly reported clinical and practice concerns about water immersion besides infections which they have addressed.

They are advised to carefully read their own references 6 & 9 and they proceed to address the issue raised in the previous review report.

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Acceptable

Statistical review: Yes, and I have assessed the statistics in my report.
