Reviewers report

Title: Primary Liposarcoma of the Ascending Colon: A Rare Case of Mixed Type Presenting as Hemoperitoneum

Version: 1 Date: 4 February 2010

Reviewer: Igor Mishin

Reviewers report:

It was a real pleasure to review the manuscript: “Primary Liposarcoma of the Ascending Colon: A Rare Case of Mixed Type Presenting as Hemoperitoneum” Yoon Young Choi, Yong Jin Kim and So Young Jin, BMC Cancer (Case report).

Comments:
1. It is really rare disease (liposarcoma of colon)
2. It is really rare histological subtype (Mixed)
3. It is really an unexpected association between diseases or symptoms (Hemoperitoneum)
4. Quality of written English - Acceptable

Comments: Recently in the English and French literature were published some regarding “liposarcoma of colon”. During the revision the authors are advised to study these manuscripts, cite them in the references (since they make the statement that this is the fifth case published in the literature), so the final version of the manuscript would content the bibliographic issues:

Quality of written English: Acceptable