Reviewer’s report

Title: Early invasive vulvar squamous cell carcinoma arising in a woman with vulvar pemphigus vulgaris and systemic lupus erythematosus

Version: 3 Date: 17 March 2010

Reviewer: Neville Hacker

Reviewer’s report:

This article is mainly of interest to medical specialists. From a gynaecological perspective, there does not seem to be rapid progression but the lesion was never adequately treated so it is difficult to draw conclusions. You should explain in more detail why you elected not to excise the VIN, which is not a big surgical procedure

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Acceptable

Statistical review: No, the manuscript does not need to be seen by a statistician.
