Title: Mucins in neoplastic spectrum of colorectal polyps: can they provide predictions?

Version: 2 Date: 15 September 2009

Reviewer’s report:

I read and checked the reviewer’s comment including mine and others. The authors responses to my comment were sincere and generally appropriate. However, I can not understand enoughly about the words of “adenoma with invasive growing”. Please show and explain your standard of the pathological classification using the photographs and the figure legends in your manuscript. I think this is important. However, this is not compulsory revision but recommendations for improvement.
