Reviewer's report

Title: Pancreatic Cancer and Depression - Myth and Truth

Version: 1 Date: 31 July 2010

Reviewer: Jia L

Reviewer's report:

This article states a debate addressing the correlation between pancreatic cancer and depression, on which should be focused actually. Although more and more researches have been performed in the field of cancer and depression in recent years, rare study has been reported about the debate which definitely exists. Based on the objective angle, the authors collected the comprehensive and valid materials to reveal the debate in this article. Thus this may be an interesting topic valued for the researchers to design and consider their studies in this field.

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Acceptable

Statistical review: No, the manuscript does not need to be seen by a statistician.

Declaration of competing interests:

I declare that I have no competing interests.