Reviewer's report

Title: Weight change during chemotherapy is a poor prognostic in non metastatic breast cancer

Version: 3 Date: 9 September 2010

Reviewer: Rebecca Cleveland

Reviewer's report:

The authors clearly put in a lot of work to address the reviewers’ comments and I believe they have adequately addressed most of the comments. The language is still a bit awkward and there are many misspellings, but these are minor edits that can easily be made to the manuscript.

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Needs some language corrections before being published

Statistical review: No, the manuscript does not need to be seen by a statistician.
