Title: Blood vessel hyperpermeability and pathophysiology in human tumour xenograft models of breast cancer: a comparison of ectopic and orthotopic tumours

Version: 1 Date: 15 July 2012

Reviewer: KAI LI

Reviewer's report:

It's an outstanding research report that provides others an important reference in how to establish the most effective model to assess the pharmacokinetics, biodistribution and treatment efficacy. It will bring about a potential and significant benefit in clinic.
