Title: Stage-dependent overexpression of peptide deformylase in breast, colon, and lung cancers

Version: 2 Date: 2 April 2013

Reviewer's report:

Despite that both reviewers suggested compulsory revision, the authors of this manuscript only modified title and discussion. There is no trace of revision in figures. The authors argues that overexpression of the gene of their interest in cancers is the punch line of this manuscript. If so, they should get rid of other misleading data; they are poorly controlled and inconsistent to each other (please read my comments to the previous version). Therefore their modification do not change my view on the merit of this m/s.
