Reviewer's report

Title: Real time contrast enhanced ultrasonography in detection of liver metastases from gastrointestinal cancer.

Version: Date: 21 May 2007

Reviewer: chris J harvey

Reviewer's report:

General

------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Major Compulsory Revisions (that the author must respond to before a decision on publication can be reached)

------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Minor Essential Revisions (such as missing labels on figures, or the wrong use of a term, which the author can be trusted to correct)
1. There are still some minor problems with use of language. For example in the results of the abstract section. The 1st line should read '65 were found to have metastases at presentation' and in the conclusion of the abstract 'CEUS is more sensitive than conventional US ..'
2. Last sentence of intro should be shortened to state aim alone without giving the result of the study.

------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Discretionary Revisions (which the author can choose to ignore)

What next?: Accept after minor essential revisions

Level of interest: An article of importance in its field

Quality of written English: Needs some language corrections before being published

Statistical review: Yes, but I do not feel adequately qualified to assess the statistics.

Declaration of competing interests:

I declare that I have no competing interests