Title: Clinical Spectrum of Rhabdomyolysis Presented to Pediatric Emergency Department

Version: 2 Date: 7 June 2013

Reviewer: Massimiliano Veroux

Reviewer's report:

The authors reported a series of children with Rhabdomyolysis. The article presents some points of interest but it needs a major revision:

- the authors reported in the methods section that .....amount of fluid administered within the first 24 hours.... will be reported. However, there are no data in the results section on the therapy of these children. This should be specified and in the discussion section the available therapy should be detailed more, so that it might be understandable to non-confident readers.

- Figure 1 should be deleted and comment in results section deleted.

- Figure 2 is not easily understandable. Please, make it clearer or delete.

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Needs some language corrections before being published

Statistical review: Yes, and I have assessed the statistics in my report.
