Reviewer's report

Title: A puzzle form of a non-verbal intelligence test gives significantly higher performance measures in children with severe intellectual disability

Version: 2 Date: 18 July 2008

Reviewer: John Oates

Reviewer's report:

Having submitted a detailed review of this ms on first submission, I find that all of the points that I raised have been satisfactorily addressed by the authors, as have, in my opinion, the points made by the other reviewer.

In consequence, I have no further points to make and I recommend acceptance of this revision.

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Acceptable
