Title: Care for Amish and Mennonite Children with Cystic Fibrosis: A Case Series

Version: 2 Date: 2 December 2008

Reviewer: Beverly A Mulvihill

Reviewer’s report:

The authors did a good job of addressing the concerns and revisions I discussed in the first review of this article. There are just a few Minor Essential Revisions left to address, in my view.

1. On p. 3 the authors state "however this incidence may be falling as a result of preconception and prenatal screening offered to the general population ...". From this statement it is hard to tell if the authors are saying the incidence is falling and the reason is the screening or that the incidence could be falling. I found the statement a bit confusing.

2. On p. 5 (3rd line from bottom) change "...it was felt it would best be in Patient A's interest..." to "...it was felt to be in Patienta's best interest...".

3. P. 7 remove comma after patient (last line of 2nd paragraph).

4. P. 9 remove "for" from last sentence in top paragraph.
