Title: Do general practitioners and psychiatrists agree about defining cure from depression? The DESCRIBE survey

Version: 1 Date: 15 July 2011

Reviewer: George Papakostas

Reviewer's report:

This is a very interesting, important analysis of differences in treatment development priorities between Pschiatrists and PCPs (two groups heavily involved in treating patients with Major Depressive Disorder-MDD) for MDD. Data was elicited with the use of specifically designed scales which allowed for systematic collection of data. The results are interesting, and worthy of publication. At this point, I do not recommend further revision.
