Title: Young men's attitudes and behaviour in relation to mental health and technology: implications for the development of online mental health services

Version: 2 Date: 29 January 2013

Reviewer: Harald Baumeister

Reviewer's report:

The authors have answered my points sufficiently well. I only have two further minor comments and else like to congratulate the authors for this fine manuscript.

- Minor Essential Revisions
1. There is still some information missing concerning the response options and scoring frames used for the following survey sections: “Interests and technology use” and “Technology and mental health”.
2. In the abstract you mentioned 18 focus groups whereas in the methods, results and discussion sections and table 1 you wrote that there were 17 groups.
