Title: Bright Green Light Treatment of Depression for Older Adults

Version: 1 Date: 25 July 2005

Reviewer: Alfred J Lewy

Reviewer’s report:

General

It is good to see scientists publishing negative data.

Major Compulsory Revisions (that the author must respond to before a decision on publication can be reached)
None

Minor Essential Revisions (such as missing labels on figures, or the wrong use of a term, which the author can be trusted to correct)

There could be more emphasis on the utility of measuring a circadian phase marker, so that correlational analyses could have been undertaken, as well as distinguishing between patients who did not receive sufficient treatment.

Discretionary Revisions (which the author can choose to ignore)

What next?: Accept after minor essential revisions

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Acceptable

Statistical review: No

Declaration of competing interests:

I am co-inventor on several melatonin use-patents owned by my university that are currently not licensed to any company.
