Reviewer's report:

General

I think this paper is now very clear, and the authors have done a good job editing it for publication. I think it is acceptable for publication, but I have a couple of minor request: see below.

------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------
Major Compulsory Revisions (that the author must respond to before a decision on publication can be reached)

None

------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------
Minor Essential Revisions (such as missing labels on figures, or the wrong use of a term, which the author can be trusted to correct)

It would be helpful if the training materials/outline of programme and teaching methods were made available by weblink, and this were the link was noted in the paper.

------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------
Discretionary Revisions (which the author can choose to ignore)

Some experiences of students or teachers in the programme would be helpful, even if anecdotal, but only where there were challenges to iron out on the next occasion rather than just positive statements about the programme.

What next?: Accept after discretionary revisions

Level of interest: An article of importance in its field

Quality of written English: Acceptable

Statistical review: No
