Reviewer's report:

Dear authors

Your answers give a good clarification on our comments. I still have a problem with the terminology of semi-structured interview. The topic guide for the interview is not really convenient for qualitative research. It's a survey you performed in an oral way and not really a semi-structured interview.

Yes/No and why questions are no good questions for qualitative research and they are in the majority in your interview guide.

The results section has more 'body' now. Regarding to your methodology I now understand it's not possible to do a more in depth analysis

Limitations are more clear now.
